My classmates and I have volunteered to analyze our school museum and to figure out what is wrong with this place.

The museum is a tiny room located in school's basement, which is hard to find, and contains many interesting facts about history of our school, its outstanding teachers and students. Moreover it works only for some hours a day during lessons.

We managed to create the list of reasons of this place being so unpopular among students. First of all, the majority of students has never heard about the museum. The second reason is that students, who truly want to explore the history, have ~~only~~ little time to do it. The last but not least is that students are not interested and have no motivation in attending it.

To rapidly enhance engagement of ~~school's~~ <sup>the</sup> students in learning about our school's history, we ~~are~~ have written some recommendations. Firstly, we should relocate the museum to the place, which is usually gets by the crowd. Then we should do the territory of the room bigger to increase the limitation of people, that can be there at the same time. Moreover we should need to increase the working time to let all interested people explore the history. However, we have to create the rule, in which sign says that the artefacts can not be output ~~to save~~ by people to save them for future generations.

In conclusion, if we really want to make people interested in our school history, we should make it easier for them, doing the museum a better place.
