The school we study at has a great museum but the problem is that nobody uses its resources properly and rapidly. Our desire is to make the school authorities interested in the solution we describe further.

To start with, only 15% of students know which kind of things the museum can provide its visitors with. The museum, ~~that~~, owns many unique installations such as ancient engagement rings, or spiritual masks. Moreover, some information the museum has can not be found in the Internet. Unfortunately, the space museum owns is in bad condition, there ~~are~~ ^{is} ~~not anything~~ ^{is nothing} that might have attracted visitors.

There are some reasons for its lack of popularity. Firstly, there is a rule that you can only spend not more than an hour in the museum. This limitation of the time blows away pupils' intention to visit it. Secondly, museum's installations are badly designed. There is often no frames for the pictures, signs can hardly be read, walls and the floor are dull-coloured. ~~A~~ huge redesign is needed.

Nonetheless, the effectiveness of using museum resources can be raised. At first, interactive events for students must be provided. If children participate in those with their classmates, it is likely that they will then visit the museum on their own. Second, teachers may forbid using any resources but the school museum's ones while students do a project or a report. This will stimulate children in visiting this place more often.

In conclusion, we worry a lot about the existence of the school's museum that somebody even do not know of. It would be a great enhance, if school's administration takes into account the question we output.
